What is a CSA/CSF?

CSA stands for Community Supported Agriculture and is basically a relationship between farmers and customers where a share of a given product is made available on a regular schedule. For instance, a vegetable farmer may provide in season produce each week from their farm to individuals that pickup at the farm or at a designated location. Payment is made to the farmer for the complete season up front, so no money is exchanged each week and makes capitol available for the season.

CSF - Community Supported Fisheries and is basically the same as a CSA only dealing with Seafood and aquatic foods. We have developed a relationship with fisheries and seafood markets from Florida in order to bring to central Illinois, fresh seafood! Including shrimp, fish, oysters, scallops and more.

Your seafood will arrive in heavy commercial grade coolers at selected drop-off points and be kept at a safe temperature in accordance with state and federal regulations until you arrive. You will need to bring something to take your share home, ideally a small cooler, or freezer bag. We recommend keeping your seafood in a refrigerator (set as close to 32 degrees as possible) after pick up and used or frozen within an applicable amount of time. We are not responsible for the safety of your seafood once it is in your possession.

 Pickup will be on the Thursday before the first Saturday of each month at Dearing Country Farms from 4 to 8pm. Please make arrangements with someone else to pick-up your seafood if you are unable to pick up your share. We are unable to compensate you for missed shares due to their perishable nature.
